Week of Compassion
In the News--On the Frontline!

Ebola! Although our greater concern should be the flu, Ebola has been a mysterious threat. Through Week of Compassion Personal Protective Equipment Kits (PPE) have been provided; 76 of these kits have already been sent to 38 hospitals in the (DR) Congo. Personal Protective Equipment Kits (PPE) are essential for protecting health workers in these high risk areas and for ensuring that the disease is not spread by the people working to contain it. Through YOUR help, lives are protected and saved with Week of Compassion.
